MASSAGE

SWEDISH is the most popular type of massage in the world. It involves manipulating the superficial layers of the muscles to improve mental and physical health. The benefits of Swedish massage include increased blood circulation, mental and physical relaxation, decreased stress and muscle tension, and improved range of motion.

DEEP TISSUE is a type of massage therapy that focuses on realigning deeper layers of muscles and connective tissue. It is especially helpful for chronic aches and the "trouble" spots in your body. The treatment involves applying firm pressure and slow strokes to reach deeper layers of muscle and fascia, the connective tissue surrounding muscles.

HOT STONE is a type of massage therapy to help you relax and ease tense muscles and damaged soft tissues throughout your body. The treatment also promotes sleep. During a hot stone massage, smooth, flat, heated stones are placed on specific parts of your body. The stones are made of basalt, a type of volcanic rock that retains heat. The stones are heated to between 130 and 145 degrees.

FOOT REFLEXOLOGY is a type of massage that involves applying different amounts of pressure to the feet. It's based on a theory that these body parts are connected to certain organs and the body systems. Reflexology rests on the ancient Chinese belief in qi (pronounced "chee"), or "vital energy." According to this belief, qi flows through each person. When a person feels stressed, their body blocks qi, with this treatment your qi will not be blocked.
